

FAQ for Emtech's new model machine – EMTECH ULTIMATE

1. Why was Emtech Ultimate created?

- a. To exploit the latest in electromagnetic and material technology. EMTECH ULTIMATE is a couple of notches up in technology above that of our EMTECH PZ100D BioCell Charger.
- b. To create a few patents so that other companies are unable to use the same colour, surface, shape to imitate our PZ100D and fool consumers that they are the same machine.

2. What are the differences between PZ100D BioCell Charger and the new Emtech Ultimate? (I.e. why Emtech Ultimate is better?)

- a. Magnetic fields are spread more evenly throughout the entire surface of the treatment platform instead of just the central area of the platform.
- b. Magnetic fields are upgraded to be more effective in the reduction of pain.
- c. EMTECH ULTIMATE is not easily imitated anymore because of the 3 patents.
- d. EMTECH ULTIMATE's treatment surface material is softer and comfortable to contact. The new ergonomics, more rounded edges, better contours, etc, are more superior in external casing design to fit contact with our body areas.
- e. The on-off switch button is now situated in a groove at the back of machine, making it harder to accidentally switch on and off.
- f. The cable insert into the machine is tighter in the central back part of the machine to prevent looseness (therefore potentially short circuits and power surges) and better for the sitting-on-top-of-the-machine position.
- g. The design & lighting are more modern and trendy, and therefore fit décor of modern homes and offices better.
- h. Ultimate has a new on/off switch for magnetic field treatment only for those people who are psychologically impacted and not willing to use the machine on the head despite our insistence that Emtech's magnetic fields are good for our brain. Now they may turn it off if they want for the head position, even though it is better to be on all the time.
